Convenient and efficient way to keep pace with clinical innovation

IGT Technology Maximizer Service Agreement

Nearly 90% of hospital staff consider Technology Maximizer to be relevant to overcome their key challenges.¹

Technology moves fast. Always be up to speed.

Our Technology Maximizer Service Agreement is a software upgrade and hardware refresh program that enables optimal performance of your Philips IGT interventional X-ray equipment. From the exam room to the technical and control rooms, our solution includes upgrades for all facets of your interventional lab.

Our Technology Maximizer Service Agreement enables you to:

- Keep up with clinical innovation and drive growth by providing timely access to innovations around new functionalities and features (clinical or otherwise).
- Make effective investment and cost management decisions by providing access to future innovations with today's dollars and with meaningful savings.
- Have peace of mind knowing that your system is secure by upgrading operating system and applications software to the latest release level.

Choose the right level of service agreement that meets your needs

We offer two levels of our service agreement: The Technology Maximizer and the Technology Maximizer-PRO. The Technology Maximizer provides upgrades for your previously-purchased equipment and applications. The PRO version provides upgrades for previously purchased equipment and applications as well as new application(s) released within a clinical suite. Choose the PRO version if you need to position your interventional lab for future growth and changes. All Technology Maximizer upgrades include appropriate training.

Choose the service level that's right for you

Both levels of the agreement are available for Philips Allura³ and Azurion systems.
